

Note on Maximilian Ruppert

Maximilian Ruppert is a professor of engineering at the Technical University of Ingolstadt. His background is in structural and civil engineering, and he wrote his thesis at Bundeswehr University on the effects of impact and explosions on buildings. On 9/11/2001 he was with a community of professionals who had studied such things. He claims that they all “knew instantly, for buildings to come down that way, it can only be a planned procedure . Ruppert was interviewed at the Club der Klaren Worte , an independent and nonpartisan information platform, in Munich, Germany on Nov 4, 2023.
